Daniel Hodgson Joins Tax Prodigy as Sales Manager to Serve Growing East Coast Market

Minneapolis, MN | September 25, 2017 -- Tax Prodigy today announced the addition of Daniel Hodgson to the Tax Prodigy leadership team as Sales Manager serving Tax Prodigy's growing East Coast market. Dan brings over 25 years of tax software sales experience, most recently at Vertex, Inc., to Tax Prodigy. Dan has a proven record of facilitating long term business relationships with customers to design solutions that fit their needs and requirements. "Dan brings tremendous experience and market knowledge to Tax Prodigy. His impeccable reputation will enhance Tax Prodigy's ability to meet the needs of our growing customer base", said Cody Strub, VP of Sales.

Tax Prodigy launched Tax Prodigy Provision™ its cloud-based tax provision solution on April 19th, 2017. Tax Prodigy Provision™ is a web-based solution focused on helping companies comply with financial accounting standard ASC 740 accounting for income taxes. Tax Prodigy Provision was created by tax professionals to give tax professionals the security and confidence they need to focus on critical tax items instead of being held back by over-engineered software or outdated and complex spreadsheets.

"As a tax professional myself, I have felt the stress that comes from the tax provision process," said Nick Frank, CEO of Tax Prodigy. "We set out to create software that actually makes tax professional's lives easier and Tax Prodigy Provision™ does exactly that. Dan's skills and experience will expand our ability to help more tax professionals who are still struggling with the tax provision process."

Tax Prodigy Provision is an accurate, technically comprehensive solution that is simple to use and reduces the risk in the ASC 740 process by helping users comply with the income tax provision requirements under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). The solution can be implemented in days and allows users to keep their data organized in a way that makes sense to them. The simple, user-friendly solution provides access control, audit logs, the ability to make and track comments while removing the versioning problems and auditing issues that have gained increased scrutiny in the current regulatory environment.
